From the course the pistol ball took, the physicians say it must have been accidental. They think the young man had reached under his pillow to get his and that he must have dropped it, discharging it, or unconsciously pulled the self-cocking trigger, causing it to explode. The ball entered the right cheek, ploughed upwards over through the left eye, lodging under dr. in the left tem-ple. He had been clerking for Farris and Flutz, druggists, up to two weeks ago, when he retired to go on a summer trip

He is from Franklin county; is a nephew of Chief Justice Walter Clark, of Ra-leigh, and had been adopted and raised by his aunt, Mrs. J. W. Nicholson, of

The death of Hon. Robert M. Sloan, at the age of 94, has developed the presence in this city of a negro womannamed Roxana Hunt, widow of Fred Hunt, who is 185 years old. Her age is vouched for by Rev. T. H. Pegram, who is an honored member of the Methodist Episcopai Conference, himself 75 years of age.

Dr. Pegram says that he was nursed by Aunt Roxana when an infant, and knew her then as "old Mammy." He has kept in touch with her all his life, paying her visits almost every year during the time she lived at Jamestown, before her husband died, several years ago. She is not only alive, but is lively. "Squire J. R. Pearce, himself 50 years old, issued claim and delivery papers for her yesterday to attach some property on which she had a chaltel mortgage for a loan of money.

RALEIGH, N. C., July 28.—Gove Jienn this morning announced his in ion to write each of the Superior C judges in the State a personal le calling on them to see to it that tion to write-each of the Superior Court judges in the State a personal letter, calling on them to see to it that the Julis in their respective districts are put in such condition as that any prisoner sentenced to be hanged can be kept in the Juli of the county in which he is to be executed, instead of sending such prisoners to some distant county for safe-keeping.

In order to relieve the overcrowded condition of the State Hospital for the Insane here, and provide room for acute and urgent cases, the management is now sending to their home counties some patients who have been under treatment for twenty to thirty years.

While an excursion train, to which six freight cars were attached next the engine, was returning on the Raleigh and Southport road last night with the Third Baptist Sunday school of Raleigh, the engine and four freight cars lumped the track, shaking up the excursionists, mostly children. No one was hurt, but two of the box cars were smashed and the track torn up some distance.

The management of the State Fair states that the official verification of the coming of President Roosevelt to the fair is nating as a wonderful stimulus, not only among the old patrons, but among the public generally in and out of the State, and double the space now at the command of the fair management could easily be filled with creditable and very desirable exhibits.
